A Recent Assault on an ALIASS Process Server

Greetings!

As a long-time supporter of the Promoting Assault Awareness and Protective Regulations for Servers or PAAPRS, we recognize how important it is to support process server safety. Our CEO & President has testified in legal proceedings and interviewed with industry organizations to promote the critical nature of this campaign. Now, we have our own reasons to be vigilant in our support and promotion.

Last month, one of our process servers was assaulted during a service attempt. When he left his family for work that morning, he could not have foreseen that his safety would be in danger just from earning his paycheck. Luckily, this recipient chose fists as his weapon and the immediate bodily harm for our process server was not life-threatening. He was lucky - this time.

To maintain our industry edge, we closely monitor reliable news sources focused on legal, government, and legal support services developments as well as evaluate conference and summit opportunities. We are also active in a number of professional industry organizations, including:

- Professional Investigators and Security Association (PISA)
- National Association of Professional Process Servers (NAPPS)
- Mid-Atlantic Association of Professional Process Servers (MAAPPS)
- Commonwealth of Virginia Association of Professional Process Servers (COVAPPS)
- New Jersey Professional Process Servers Association (NJPPSA)
- Texas Process Servers Association (TPSA)
- National Public Records Research Association (NPRRA)
- Public Record Retriever Network (PRRN)

What can you do?

Here are a few quick ideas: Share this story with friends, either by forwarding this news or sharing in person. Post information about this campaign to your social media page - click here to open the central source for PAAPRS. If you are on Twitter, show your support for the PAAPRS campaign with the hashtag #dontshootthemessenger.

But this campaign really needs an identity. So please, take a moment to join over 1,300 signees in petitioning to make assault on a process server a felony in every state. Click here to go directly to the Change.org petition. In the 30 seconds it takes to sign this online petition, you can not only raise awareness but can bring us one step closer to bringing this issue to light.

From all of us at ALIASS, thank you for your support.

Special Rate of $40.00!

Time is of the essence during a foreclosure process - let ALIASS help you serve MERS right the first time to keep your proceedings on the right track. And if you submit payment by check or credit card with your request, you are eligible to receive a promotional rate of $40.00. Payment must be received with request in order to qualify.

- If you submit your request online, use our online ALIASS Service Request Form and then our ALIASS Submit Payment online form.
- If you mail your request, be sure to include a check written for this amount.

This prepayment rate applies to our other specialized process services, too!

If you need service to Secretary of State, Capital One, Citibank, Department of Justice, Navy Federal Credit Union, and Social Security Administration, just prepay as outlined in bullets above and you will qualify for this $40.00 rate.

From Our CEO

With the recent passing of Memorial Day, I am reminded just how many of the ALIASS team have military and law enforcement background. We are undeniably thankful for the service these individuals provided to our country and honored that they have chosen to be a part of our team.

In the summer months that stretch between Memorial Day and Labor Day, I invite you to keep all active, retired and veteran military personnel in your thoughts and prayers each and every day. As Americans, we should endeavor to remember their service as frequently as we enjoy the freedoms provided through their sacrifices.

Sincerely,

Steven P. Harris
CEO & President
